The Integrated Behavioral Health Care workshop is designed for social workers who deliver or plan to deliver integrated behavioral health services, and who serve populations often presenting with complex needs in physical health, mental health, and substance use. Attendees will gain assessment, intervention, consultation skills and will learn strategies to apply these skills in the workplace.

Instructor: Natasha Mosby, MSW
Program Coordinator, UNLV School of Social Work
Natasha Mosby received her Master’s in Social Work from Louisiana State University and her bachelor’s degrees in sociology and criminal justice from Southern University and A&M College in Baton Rouge, LA. She provides therapeutic treatment to children, adolescents, adults, couples, and families. She specializes in working with clients coping with anxiety, depression, trauma, family system issues, grief, and loss.
