Managing the Customer Experience Module
The Managing the Customer Experience module concentrates on the interactions, both direct and indirect, that customers have with a company and its products or services. Successful customer interactions can lead to positive brand perception, purchase, and ultimately customer loyalty. Specific concepts include multiple forms of business communication to various stakeholders, evaluating the service experience, marketing, and understanding the sales process. This module includes four focus areas each taught by an experienced faculty member or local business leader.

Marketing: View your business from the customer's point of view so you can craft a marketing strategy tailored to your unique product and target audience. You will be provided with tools to develop an effective marketing strategy and will learn the basics of how to analyze market opportunities, develop marketing plans, and implement marketing programs.

Business Communications: Focus on a variety of business communications for the organization-specifically writing in a business context and designing and delivering business presentations. Written communication will cover appropriate content, organization, and tone. Presentation delivery will focus on effective organization, content, delivery, non-verbal cues, use of media, and appearance.

Service Operations: Examine approaches for achieving operational competitiveness in a service-focused business and investigate several tools for analyzing service operations. Operational excellence is critical for success in any service industry, as businesses increasingly face deregulation, global competition, and rapidly-evolving information technology.

Sales: Understanding the sales process and the role of a professional salesperson/manager is a critical part of any business, regardless of company size or customer profile. After outlining key steps within the sales process, you will identify ways to improve your company's sales efforts throughout the customer lifecycle.

These are hybrid classes. Access to the online component is available two weeks prior to the in-person meet dates. People Management Module
The People Management module provides you with the most up-to-date information about managing and leading people. You will learn principles of people management and how to apply them to your business or team. Specific topics include managing organizations, managing conflict, leading through change, and methods for conflict resolution. Completing this module provides you with tools and techniques you can immediately apply to your workplace. This module includes four focus areas, each taught by an experienced faculty member or local business leader.

Leadership: In today's business environment, marked by rapid change and hyper-competition, effective leadership often makes the difference between success and failure. Examine the different roles and characteristics of a leader, as well as the impact of leadership on an organization. You will also assess your own leadership skills and identify ways to develop your personal approach.

Managing People: The essence of an organization is its workforce; employees must effectively work together to produce positive outcomes. Gain knowledge of organizational behavior and the various methods of managing individuals, teams, and organizations to elicit consistent, high levels of performance.

Negotiation & Conflict Resolution: Leaders often spend a significant amount of their time dealing with conflict and its consequences. People deal with conflict in various ways, but the most effective conflict management tool, at least potentially, is to negotiate. Enhance your ability to negotiate deals, settle disputes, and make team-based decisions.

Change and Transformation: Examine change management theory and application. Change in organizations is unavoidable. We can allow it to happen to us, or we can embrace it and harness it. Successful organizations make innovation and evaluation a consistent part of their culture. Because change is a process, it can be managed through effective leadership.

When you earn UNLV’s highly respected Paralegal Certificate, you will be well versed in the day-to-day responsibilities of a paralegal, plus you will understand the legal principles that govern our state and nation. Vine to Wine: The Fundamentals
Complete an in-depth study of wine focused on winemaking practices, grapes, and regions. Receive training in wine tasting, wine service, and food and wine pairing. Further broaden your wine education via industry discussions, guest speakers, and field trips. Vine to Wine covers general winemaking, including ongoing discussions of how environmental conditions and actions taken by winemakers influence the finished wine. Each week, break down and examine a different major wine making region by looking at conditions like climate and soil. Taste over 10 wines per session to learn about varietal and regional standards while learning to examine wine in blind tasting format. Receive instruction and practice on wine service for both still and sparkling wines. Study food and wine pairing theory, then bring it to life by choosing your own wine and cheese pairings. Daily discussions about what is currently trending in the wine industry will open your eyes to aspects of the industry you never knew existed. Professionals working in the wine industry will be brought in to discuss their point of view of what they see in the market. Field trips are used to introduce career opportunities in the world of wine. A three-part final exam tests student knowledge in written, essay, and blind tasting formats.
